

problem 4

The view would need to be changed to receive input from the server rather than from user input. Also the game would be completely dependent on the connection with the server which means that ensuring good communication and stable connection make the game more complex.